

Marvin Stone

CFPB Program Manager

Senior Vice President, Business Integration

Stewart

Marvin currently holds the position of senior vice president of business integration and currently serves as the CFPB program manager for Stewart. Since joining Stewart in 2007, Marvin has overseen a wide variety of technology and process improvement initiatives, all designed to better support Stewart's network of Trusted Providers. Prior to joining Stewart, he served as chief information officer for a large, West Coast title agency, as well as holding customer-serving technology positions with other national underwriters. Previous to entering the title industry, Marvin was in a management role for a national mortgage lender.
