American Land Title Association Awards Omaha Resident National Title Professional Designation

Washington, D.C., April 15, 2014 — The American Land Title Association (ALTA), the national trade association of the land title insurance industry, announced today it has awarded Deborah L. Scott of Omaha, Nebraska, a National Title Professional designation. Scott is the first recipient of the NTP designation in Nebraska.

The National Title Professional (NTP) designation recognizes land title professionals who demonstrate the knowledge, experience, and dedication essential to the safe and efficient transfer of real property.*

“With over 20 years of experience, Deborah has a proven record of dedication to the title industry,” said ALTA President Rob Chapman. “We are thrilled to be awarding her with a National Title Profession designation to commemorate all of her hard work and commitment.”

Scott is currently the title manager at Omaha Title & Escrow. An active member of ALTA, she serves on the Government Affairs Committee and the State Legislation/Regulatory Action Committee. She is also extremely involved with the Nebraska Land Title Association, where she is a past president, chair of the Convention Committee and co-chair of the Legislative Committee.

The designation has several elements, including industry and compliance prerequisites and training requirements. To apply for the NTP designation and for more information, please visit the ALTA's NTP website.

About ALTA

*Designation under the National Title Professional Program solely demonstrates that a land title professional has met the particular standards and criteria of the National Title Professional Program. Neither the American Land Title Association, nor the designation itself, guarantees or warrants anything beyond a designee's ability to meet such standards or criteria. The American Land Title Association makes no representations, warranties, or guarantees as to, and has and assumes no responsibility for the proper performance of land title services, including but not limited to the transfer of real property, or related services provided by designees.

The American Land Title Association, founded in 1907, is the national trade association representing nearly 4,400 title insurance companies, title agents, independent abstracters, title searchers, and attorneys. With offices throughout the United States, ALTA members conduct title searches, examinations, closings, and issue title insurance that protects real property owners and mortgage lenders against losses from defects in titles.
