

Introducing the National ALTA Registry

The national ALTA Registry is a needed industry utility providing mortgage lenders with accurate information about the title insurance companies they do business with. The ALTA Registry helps lenders reduce the pain points of production costs, risk of losses and compliance with regulations.

More facts about the national ALTA Registry:

- The ALTA Registry provides title companies with a unique ALTA ID (a seven digit number) that allows mortgage lenders to verify they're working with the right company in each transaction.
- The ALTA Registry helps mortgage lenders reduce the risks arising from manual research on their service providers and allows lenders to reallocate those resources to production. It improves oversight while reducing production costs.
- The ALTA Registry is a national, centralized database of title and settlement agents. Its records include; agents' legal entity names, location addresses and which underwriter(s) the agent is issuing insurance for. Each record in the ALTA Registry has been confirmed by the agents' underwriters and is updated when business relationships change.
